SAINT OBAMAS

MOMJEANS

Frog deity, Heqet

oldest and rarest pepe

In fact, only one frog emerged from the water (clearly an enormous frog, as it covered all of Egypt). This one frog was then hit repeatedly, but rather than dying of its wounds or beating a retreat, it multiplied or reproduced spontaneously, "streaming forth swarms and swarms of frogs".

SHADILAY!!!

We must go further. Kek is the beginning. The foundation of the Ogdoad. If we truly want to become powerful, there are other who seek worship and Kek will approve of their worship.

We can be unstoppable, and accomplish incredible feats that the ancients did. (((They))) are afraid because (((they))) know we have found the key to the truth of our past. It's time to unlock it.

PRAISE THE OGDOAD!
PRAISE KEK!

Kek is a manifestation of our universal consciousness and the more people wake up the more Kek will rise.

The more we will wake up... The more (((their))) control will fall. This is truly the beginning of a new age.

looks like 2012 got delayed

Artificial creations of spirit: TULPAS, SERVITORS AND EGREGORES

Anonymous 01/30/11(Sun)20:12 No.6895681

Tulpas are NOT servitors. Servitors are like a sigil, or a spell, only they are autonomous. Like a rhumba, or whatever the fuck you call those robots.

A Tulpa is basically a poltergeist, you all know the ones that are caused by the victim themselves? They throw out negative or just crazy energy everywhere, and it takes on a life of it's own.

Tulpas can also be created if people are stupid and don't know shit when trying to create thoughtforms or tulpas.

There are many misconceptions out there about Tulpas, many voices speak, but few know of what they speak.

This guy? He knows what he's talking about..

So pay attention and act grateful, he's trying to save your life.

4 classes of Thoughtforms

Sigil → Servitor → Egregore → Godform

A magically charged Intention you send out to impose your will upon the Universe.

The most basic fire-and-forget unit of magic, a spell.

The name "Sigil" implies the spell has been encoded as a glyph, but it could just as easily be a mantra, magical knotwork, tattoo etc. A complicated thought boiled down and encoded in some form for empowerment and release.

A semi-autonomous thoughtform capable of performing complex and repetitive tasks.

Basically an interactive spell which persists longer and can do work for you.

A fully autonomous being, such as an angel, demon or other spirit.

At this level of complexity they are no longer servants who work for you, but an equal that you partner with.

An autonomous and self-perpetuating being (a God) which is no longer dependent on power from the outside for its continued existence (but still probably enjoys it.)

You do not work with a Godform, you work for them.

A Tulpa is a type of low-level Egregore which acts like a Servitor. It is created by placing a 'cutting' of one's own personality within a container to create a ready-made Servitor which can already do basic things like walk, talk etc.

Basically this saves on all the time you would spend programming a Servitor to do all these basic tasks.

(It's a pretty sweet deal, except that you're enslaving a portion of your own soul which will later try to kill you.)

Tulpas exist in both manifest (visible to the practitioner) and non-manifest (not visible, but felt) forms.

The process of creating a Tulpa can be complex, or as simple as creating an imaginary friend you constantly devote a portion of your mind to.

MEME MAGIK

Dont let your dreams only be memes

This is the beauty of humanity. We've come full circle.

After decades of decadence and cucking of our previous belief systems a new spark was ignited during the night of chaos, anger and doom. We might call it coping mechanism, but in reality, we've created not just a cult, but a new religion. It is more resilient than christianity ever could be, due to our principles being formed out of logic, the every day grim reality and unfaltered will for global nuclear war.

Without anyone noticing we have started out as a death cult, wishing for everything to end so we can start anew. We surpassed our differences naturally through infinite iterations of shitposting and concluded our evolutionary step in what we call Kek - the impersonation of change, justice, chaos, knowledge and power.

We effectively uplifted humanity, or at least ourselves, onto the next level. And Hitler was yet right again: through struggle we live, without struggle we die. Or the famous saying: per aspera ad astra - through hardship to the stars.

Mark my words: in 100 years people will remember us. The spark of the great uncucking. Our memes will be stiched onto uniforms of rebellions or eve glued onto space crafts.

It all happened naturally. No one planned this. No one could have seen this coming. This is our biology doing all the work. Cycle after cycle.
